

Our Partnership with ADP

And How it Can Benefit You

A more human resource.®

Leadership Council, an association of nonprofit agencies with over 170 nonprofit members, has partnered with ADP to provide our members with leading workforce management services and consultation. With employment trends shifting and the war for talent increasing every day, it's greatly beneficial to have the help of a comprehensive resource provider.

That's why we've partnered with ADP to help support your human resources needs.

Our partnership with ADP enables our members to utilize all components of Human Capital Management (HCM) in a single database to help you activate your talent, gain efficiencies and lower your total cost of managing all aspects of your on-site and mobile workforce.

With more than 5,000 nonprofit and public sector clients nationwide, ADP recognizes that every business is unique. See how this is reflected in ADP's professional, consultative approach to business and depth and breadth of services.

Value and Opportunity for Leadership Council Members:

- Achieve cost savings to your bottom line
- Gain access to more accurate labor allocation and reporting to help ease the collection of grant funding requirements
- Receive a free, no-obligation ADP benchmark report of your people, process and technology that compares where you stand with your peer and world-class organizations in the areas of workforce management*

ADP can help you become world class and win the war for talent.

Based on a thorough review of your current HR practices, ADP will leverage its extensive benchmarking data to create a roadmap that will help take your business from its current state to world class. And with ADP Workforce Now®, you'll be in a position of strength to help you better recruit, develop, engage and retain employees, ultimately helping you to win the war for talent.

Why use a comprehensive resource provider?

Human Capital Management (HCM) is constantly changing. Today, employees aren't only moving from nonprofit employers for higher wages, but they're also considering other factors like flexibility, meaning in their work, philanthropy and company environment.

You can use an HCM provider to enhance your current organizational strategy and support all of these factors, so you're not doing it alone.

Quick Stats:

- On average, 35% of nonprofit organizations have at least one audit per year. An integrated, automated and paperless system can help ensure audits run smoothly.
- 66% nonprofits have seen an increase in compliance-related tasks. Help ensure compliance with an HCM solution that keeps company data all in one place
